PARTNER INFORMATION

Description of the Legal Entity

Global Mobility Studies (GMS) is a non-profit association dedicated to advancing sustainable practices in global mobility. GMS develops tools and methodologies to measure and manage the environmental, social, and governance (ESG) impact of cross-border employment. The organization promotes inclusive, fair, and data-driven global mobility policies and works closely with legal experts, academic institutions, and multilateral organizations.

Description of the Research Team

The GMS research team is composed of experts in global mobility, sustainability, labor law, and public policy. The team includes academic researchers, ESG analysts, legal professionals, and data specialists with cross-sector experience in international labor standards, regulatory compliance, and sustainable development frameworks.

Professor Gadi Ravid and attorney Tsvi Kan-Tor co-founded Global Mobility Studies with the shared vision of promoting ethical, data-driven, and sustainable practices in cross-border employment.

- Professor Ravid is the Dean of the School of Management at Netanya Academic College and a lecturer at several leading Israeli universities. His work bridges academia and industry, with a focus on sustainable business models, impact measurement, and responsible governance.
- Attorney Kan-Tor is a globally recognized expert in immigration and global mobility law, advising multinational companies, governments, and international organizations. He has led multiple legislative and policy initiatives in Israel and abroad. Author of several books and chair of the Foreign employees committee of the Israeli Bar.

Together, they lead a multidisciplinary team with the mission of creating evidence-based methodologies — such as the Global Mobility Impact Report (GMIR) — to support responsible mobility aligned with the UN Sustainable Development Goals, particularly SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth). GMS prepared a full syllabus for graduate degree (M.A) in Global Mobility or Cross Border Employees.
